July is National Ice Cream Month

In the USA more ice cream is consumed per head than any other country in the world – such is the love of ice cream among Americans. This is reflected in other ways too, not least by the fact that the USA has its own ‘National Ice Cream Month’. Since 1984, when President Reagan proclaimed that National Ice Cream Month be celebrated annually, every July has been a focus for greater attention to ice cream in the United States.

Join in the celebration and make your own homemade ice cream! It’s hard to imagine greater fun! For recipes, go to: <http://www.ice-cream-recipes.com/>

Tips to Improve your Organizational Skills

People who have efficient control of their time are not only more productive, but also enjoy more opportunities for leisure and relaxation. In the employment world, employers look for potential job candidates who have strong organizational skills. Efficient time management reflects a person’s good working habits and ability to accomplish tasks. It is therefore a must that job seekers continue to hone their organizational skills to increase their chances of employment.

Here are some tips to improve your organizational skills to get the job:

1. Be systematic. Log your appointments, meetings and other tasks in a notebook or a PDA to keep track of your time.
2. Use the calendar wisely. This is particularly helpful especially when remembering important dates.
3. Attend time management seminars. This could expose you to new techniques and information on how to hone your organizational skills.
